

What to do in case of a FEVER

guidance for parents

1. Rectal temperature measurement up to 3 years

2. Pinprick spots just below the skin on the arms, legs or abdomen which you cannot press away: this indicates blood poisoning and the development of a very serious infection

3. Possible reasons for concern: if your child is abnormally ill or more ill than usual, if your child is getting worse or if your child has a fever for more than three days in a row

4. Signs of discomfort: tearful, pain, discomfort, loss of appetite, less active

5. One dose of paracetamol syrup according to weight (10 mg/kg up to 1 year, 15 mg/kg from 1 year)

6. Exceptionally, another process can be followed after consultation with a doctor
